

2017 AAEA Membership

Now is the time to renew your membership in the AAEA. Not a member, join the AAEA now. Ready to move up in your membership level, check our website and send in the information now.

The membership period for the American Academy of Equine Art extends from October 1 to the end of the year. Each member should pay their dues for 2017 during this period. It is also important, at this time, to update all your contact information to ensure that you receive news of the Academy and information about shows and workshops.

If you are one of our Signature Members, it is important to note that the annual dues have been reduced to $150 from the previous $200.

The annual dues for a Juried Member are $125.

If your art has been accepted into three Juried Shows within the last five years, now is the time to fill out the Juried Artist Member Application (available on our website) and mail it in.

Please note, that if you have sent in your dues to be a Member after September 1, 2016, you are already covered for 2017. You do not need to pay again.

If you are an artist who would like to be part of the AAEA, you can fill out the Member Application and send it in with the annual dues of $60.

This is also the time that Juried Members are considered for elevation to Signature Membership. This is a difficult level of membership to attain, but if you think you are qualified, you should review the submission requirements on the website and send them into the AAEA for consideration.

It is important to take care of these membership requirements during this period. We are now in the process of creating a new up to date directory for our membership and your prompt attention to your membership will ensure that you are part of this effort. This is also the time that additions of names, bios and artwork will be made to our website.
